

TIFFIN TRIBUNE

LOCKE & BROTHER,
PROPRIETORS.

Tiffin, Thursday, Feb. 28, 1912.

Troubles, like babies, get bigger by nursing.

That aggregation of humbugs—the Democratic party—Chicago Times.

Dr. O'Leary will lecture in the Globe Theater, Cleveland, next week.

Crepin's nose was an immense thing—the whole Commission sat down on it.

Seven into eight, and one over. The Democrats are the impudence to put the Bradley as the result.

James Gordon Bennett, of the New York Herald, who fought—or did fight—a duel with H. A. Hayes, is staying in Paris with his sister.

Turnman, Monday resigned his place on the Electoral Commission, on account of ill-health and Senator Kerman took the position.

And now Joe Myers tells the Advertiser that he is not a candidate for Marshal. Trot out the next Democrat who does not want an office.

Donn Pratt was arrested last week on the charge of sedition against the government. He was required to give bail in the sum of $5,000.

Gen. McArthur, the Chicago postmaster, has been found a defaulter to the amount of $88,000. He has resigned and made application to go into bankruptcy.

The meanness and contemptibility of New York City, the manner of its printing the name of the next President, thus: J. A. Hayes. This is acknowledging the truth with as little show as possible.

Several boards of trade of cities in Ohio have passed resolutions favoring an appropriation to Congress for the purpose of equipping an expedition to hunt and freeze in the attempt—for that unknown territory called the North Pole.

The Washington Union (Montgomery Blair's paper) gives up the contest and elevates the name of S. J. Tilden for President in 1912. Before that time rolls around the Democracy will deny that Tilden ever was their candidate. Many of them are already ashamed of it.

The larger share of the Northern Democratic filibusters are fellows who were not re-elected last year, but were re-elected to their Districts to take stations in private life on a level with ordinary humbugs. Perhaps they were to create trouble to punish the people for their rejection, or what is more likely having occupied office they anxiously hoped to be able to pick up some of the good things that Tilden might have to drop around.

In the House, Monday, when the Northern filibusters were charging around accusing Southern Democrats of cowardice, Mr. Yeater forced his way into a little circle of them and with flashed face and excited manner exclaimed, addressing himself to Mr. Cate and the Democrats who were opposing acquiescence, "Those who denounce us now as cowards, when the pinch came fifteen years ago turned against us."

It was a center shot and caused consternation. The Democracy are grieving over the result of the Presidential election and are foolishly charging fraud. They had much better weep over the fate of their leaders, who were clothed and when they go to work they get ready for the Presidential contest of 1912. If they could themselves properly between now and then, they might have been forgiven the enormous frauds they committed during the late election, and the attempt to swindle Hayes out of electoral votes since November.

The people are not to be deceived by the Democratic party, who are crying frauds, and that party must purge itself or its days are numbered.

Among the public men mentioned for prominent places, by the press, were placed to notice Hon. Chas. Foster comes in for a due share. He is spoken of for Governor next fall, for Senator to succeed Sherman, if the latter goes into Hayes' Cabinet, and for Secretary of War. We are pleased at this, for we think the people of this district, however, will demand that Mr. Foster should be re-elected to his present position.

The honor and decency of Democrats in the House and Senate was shown in the objections to the admission of South Carolina. The Democratic investigating committee, that went to South Carolina to investigate election matters for three or four weeks, has had no report ready to submit to the House which elects the Hayes electors in that State have a majority, the lowest electoral vote in the country, and that Hampton was elected Governor over Chamberlain.

This report has been held back for just such a contingency as has arisen and now objection is made to the State for no other purpose than to prevent completion of the count before March 4th.

It is a peculiar position the Democracy are putting themselves into, but we presume they know what they ought to do; or perhaps they would better say they think they know.

They seem to lose sight, however, of the fact that the commission was accepted to get rid of an apparently ugly state of affairs and that the people of the country generally looked upon the commission as the means of finally settling the vexed question of the Presidency.

Their course only tends to show this: They were beaten in November; they were beaten before their own constituents, and are determined to beat their own brains out through sheer anger, discomfiture, desperation, disappointment and stupidity.

Some of the leading Democrats in Congress have placed themselves in a peculiar position as regards the findings of the Electoral Commission. The bill providing for the admission of South Carolina as a Democratic idea, and was a law by Democratic votes so far as the House is concerned, it was gotten up by the Democrats to give Tilden a last chance to give the coveted prize of the Presidency when he had been legally defeated.

During the pendency of the bill Democrats argued in favor of it on the ground that an exigency had arisen in the counting of the electoral vote that the law was necessary.

They also claimed that the bill was proposed in the interests of peace and harmony; that the financial welfare of the country demanded it; and that the decision of the tribunal would be final.

What do we see in the progress made by the Commission under the bill? The Commission has not decided one question and has not even gradually acquired its. Upon every occasion when a decision has been presented to the House for its consideration the Democracy have voted against accepting it, and on one of two occasions have tried to have the matter referred to the tribunal again.

Every effort has been made to prevent the Commission from completing its work, not only in dilatory actions in adjournment, but also in propositions that if carried out would involve the country in anarchy.

All this has been done, and more, in the face of the fact that the honor to abide by the result as announced by the Commission. It is no excuse that the commission has not decided as they expected it. They look upon the fact that the body of men, from all parts of the country, who have been selected to order by Justice Clifford, President, and a vote was taken on the following proposition, which has been informally submitted and discussed, but not voted upon during the day's session.

What is the most singular in this trouble is the fact that nearly all the opposition to the findings of the commission has come from the Northern Democrats. Why they should show such an utter lack of honor and integrity, while their southern brethren seem disposed to stand by their country, is beyond the comprehension of the ordinary observer. They are doing their party no good by the course. Not only are they showing a wonderful lack of honor and decency, but they are actually attempting to nullify or break a law that is just as binding as any law on the statute books. No language can be too strong in denouncing such a course, and the men who so conduct themselves are ripe for treason and would not hesitate to plunge the country into a civil war, if by doing their party ends could be secured.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Feb. 29.—In the Senate the objections made in the joint session to counting the votes of certain Electors in the State of Michigan and North Carolina were sustained, and the case it was resolved, unanimously, that the votes be counted. The Senate then adjourned.

In the House, by a party vote, it was resolved that the vote of Louisiana be cast for Tilden and Hendricks. It was also resolved that the full electoral vote of Michigan should be cast for Hayes and Tilden, an attempt was made early in the session to take a recess until to-morrow, but it was defeated by a large majority. Before the case of the alleged illegitimate Electors from the two persons chosen was inaugurated, the House adjourned.

Feb. 21.—In the Senate, the Post-office appropriations were considered and the appropriation bill was also considered and passed.

In the House, the sundry civil appropriation bill was passed, and it was resolved that the vote of the State of Oregon be cast for Hayes and Wheeler. An evening session was held, but so few members were present that no business was transacted.

Feb. 22.—In the Senate, a bill appropriating $250,000 to erect a fireproof building adjoining the Smithsonian Institution, for the National Museum, was passed. The deficiency appropriation bill was also considered, amended, read a third time and passed. Adjourned.

In the House the sundry civil appropriation bill was considered and amended, and the most important of which were increasing the appropriation for the continuance of the postoffice buildings at Cincinnati and Philadelphia from $300,000 to $400,000. Adjourned.

Feb. 23.—In the Senate the naval appropriation bill was considered and amended, and the bill was passed. The right of way over the Hot Springs (Ark.) Reservation was also considered and passed.

In the House, the sundry civil appropriation bill was considered and amended, and the bill was passed. The right of way over the Hot Springs (Ark.) Reservation was also considered and passed.

Feb. 24.—In the Senate the decision of the Electoral Commission giving the three votes of Oregon to Hayes and Wheeler was read and debated, and the bill was passed. The post route bill was passed. The decision of the Electoral Commission in the case of Oregon was discussed, and the House finally voted to disagree with the decision.

Adjourned.

Feb. 25.—In the Senate the day was consumed by the discussion of the case of Oregon, and it was not until 6 o'clock that legislative business was resumed. Several conference committees were appointed, and the bills were appointed, and the minor business transacted, and the session adjourned.

In the House no legislative business was transacted, the day being consumed in discussing the Electoral vote of Pennsylvania and Rhode Island.

The Chicago Times can always say bitter and true things of the Democratic party than of anything else. It is a peculiar position the Democracy are putting themselves into, but we presume they know what they ought to do; or perhaps they would better say they think they know.

THE PRESIDENCY

Counting the Vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The Electoral Commission reassembled in the Senate Chamber, and the case of Oregon was taken up.

Senator Thurman had been unable to attend the session, and Senator Tamm was taken in order to ascertain whether he would prefer to resign or to continue to serve. A commission was then organized to receive the commission and there transacted the business of the day.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

THE PRESIDENCY

Counting the Vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The Electoral Commission reassembled in the Senate Chamber, and the case of Oregon was taken up.

Senator Thurman had been unable to attend the session, and Senator Tamm was taken in order to ascertain whether he would prefer to resign or to continue to serve. A commission was then organized to receive the commission and there transacted the business of the day.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

THE PRESIDENCY

Counting the Vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The Electoral Commission reassembled in the Senate Chamber, and the case of Oregon was taken up.

Senator Thurman had been unable to attend the session, and Senator Tamm was taken in order to ascertain whether he would prefer to resign or to continue to serve. A commission was then organized to receive the commission and there transacted the business of the day.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and Frelinghuysen was appointed to receive the commission in due time that Senator Thurman should receive the commission at his house. At 4 o'clock, therefore, the other members of the commission proceeded to the residence of Senator Thurman.

A committee consisting of Senators Bayard and